Preface.

During the latter part of his life, Rev. W. G. Montgomery spent much time in collecting notes and preparing a manuscript history of the Montgomery and Somerville families, which he hoped to see published. But there was not enough of recent history collected to make the book what it should be, and no definite action was taken upon the matter till the Montgomery reunion of 1896, when John H. Montgomery, of Granville, and Charles W. Montgomery, of Bowling Green, were authorized to collect all available material and publish the history.

The committee turned over to me all the manuscript they had and authorized me to collect all I could to add to it, and have charge of the publication. Accordingly I proceeded to write to different members of the various branches of the family, for their contributions to the work, and to rearrange the manuscript which contained much matter that was quite foreign to our history, so it had to be rewritten and very much abridged. The history as presented to you thus consists of the abridged manuscript of Rev. W. G. Montgomery, and contributions by those to whom I wrote and others. In order to have the style of the book as uniform as possible, I have taken the liberty to make some changes in the arrangement and style of most of the contributions, believing it would give better satisfaction to all to have the same plan throughout the work.

It has been no small task to collect the material for this book, and there are many facts we were unable to secure that would aid much in making the various lines complete. Allow me here to express my thanks to all who have so kindly aided in this work, without whose co-operation the history would have been impossible.

Believing that all will be interested in continuing the history, and in writing up more fully their own branch of the family, blank leaves have been provided in the latter part of the book for this purpose. Each one should head these blank pages in a convenient order for reference and keep future notes with system, devoting a page or two to each of the more remote branches of the family, but reserving the greatest part to write up the history of his father or mother and husband or wife and their connections; which of course was impossible in the body of the book owing to the great number that would be involved. If these leaves are rightly used they can be made as valuable as any others in the book. Our histories can be kept right up to date, and they will grow and be more valuable as the years go by.

FRANK MONTGOMERY.

Granville, O.

The Name Montgomery in History.

The first appearance of the name Montgomery in history, was after the conquest of England by the Normans under William the Conqueror. The decisive battle of the conquest was the battle of Hastings, fought November 14th, 1066. After the Saxons were overcome, William divided the country into Shires, and put them under the control of his officers. One of these, in the north-central part of Wales, fell to a man named Montgomery.

At various times during the succeeding centuries, the pages of history have made room for this name. In the beginning of the reign of Henry I, the Welch chroniclers say that a certain Robert DeBelsme rebelled, and his brother Arnulph DeMontgomery went over to Ireland and collected supplies for the war, and married the Irish King's daughter.

In 1559 Henry II of France gave a tournament at the marriage of his daughter to Philip of Spain, and insisted upon Gabriel Compte DeMontgomery, a member of his bodyguard, entering the lists with him. In the conflict the King was mortally wounded. Montgomery fled to England and became a Protestant. In 1562 he went back to France to take part in the religious wars, and after twelve years of valiant service for the Protestants, was captured and beheaded.

Richard Montgomery was born in 1736. His father was member of Parliament for Lifford. He was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, and came to America in 1757, when he took a prominent part in a number of battles, among which was the battle of Lewisburg. He returned to England and lived there nine years. Resigning his commission, he came to America to live, settled in Dutchess County, New York, and was elected to the Provincial Convention. He won renown in the campaign against Canada in 1775. But at the attack on Quebec, the last battle of the campaign, he was killed while leading his division.

Among others of military distinction might be mentioned John B. Montgomery, born in 1796, and William Reading Montgomery, born in 1801, both of New Jersey. The former went with Decatur against the Algerian pirates, distinguished himself in the Mexican war and was made Rear Admiral in 1866. The latter was a West Point graduate, commanded in the Mexican War, and for valiant service in the Civil War at Bull Run was made Brigadier-General.

The literature of our language also received a rich legacy from one of our name. James Montgomery, the son of a Moravian preacher, was born at Irvine, Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1771. His father tried to educate him for the Moravian pastorate at Fulneck, but the work was not congenial to him, so he entered the newspaper business and published many of his poems in his papers. He was twice fined by his opponents for some of his publications, but in 1835 received a yearly pension of £150. He died in 1854. A number of his short poems appear as hymns in our church hymnals.

First Authentic History of Our Ancestors.

The following is an extract from a manuscript written by Samuel Linn, an early settler near Hillsboro, Ohio, whose mother was a Somerville and a sister to the widow Linn, second wife of our ancestor William Montgomery:

My ancestors of both my parents removed from Scotland to the North of Ireland before the days of William and Mary, as I have often heard mother mention the name of a family from which she was descended, being at Londonderry when that city was besieged by King James' army in 1689.

I remember of seeing my grandfathers Linn and Somerville. They were both old and died before I was six years of age. Their farms were about a mile apart, one in county Tyrone, the other in Fermanagh, near Five-Mile-Town. They were all staunch Presbyterians. My parents, Robert and Eleanor (Somerville) Linn, had seven children. Two of them died in infancy. Three boys and two girls all grew up. Father owned, or rather had leased, twenty acres of land. About thirteen pounds sterling yearly rent was paid. This tract supported three families. Rent, taxes, tithes, etc., were all paid by the cultivation of flax and manufacture of linen. Father died in 1794. Never can I forget his calling all the family around the bedside and admonishing them on the subject of religion. Being the oldest, the management of the family devolved upon me. My inclination had been for some time toward America. I proposed to go there and if pleased with the country return in a year and take the rest with me. But they all said they would go at once, so we came to America in 1796. Leaving Londonderry we attempted a northern passage, but were met by a severe storm and compelled to put into port in Scotland to right some damages to the vessel. Most of the passengers went on shore. They said the vessel would not start for twenty hours. Brother Robert and I went up on a hill, and seeing houses went to them. While conversing with the people a lad came and said the vessel was under sail. We ran down to the wharf just as a lighter vessel was putting out. I jumped aboard and taking Robert by the hand helped him on. We soon overtook our ship and were put safely aboard. After we had been some days out, we were boarded by some officers of a British frigate, and about fifty passengers were impressed into the navy from our vessel. They said they wanted young men only who were not married. The young men took girls and said they were their wives. I had seven boils on my body, so they did not want me. Brother hid in an old chest with some clothes and so we escaped. We landed safely in Philadelphia and moved out near Lancaster, Pennsylvania. I had a good common education and secured a position as school teacher, and clerked at a furnace for some years. I married a daughter of Captain Slaymaker, and soon after moved to Augusta County, Virginia, where brother Robert and the rest had gone some years before. The descendants of Robert still live in Virginia. After some years I sold out and came to Highland County, Ohio, near Hillsboro, where quite a connection has since sprung up.

A letter from Henry Montgomery of Hanover, to his son John, of Granville :

I have been impressed for some time with the idea of writing a short sketch of my life and christian experience, but thought the task too great for me, being at the advanced age of eighty years. However, in the fear of God, I will give you a sketch embracing a period of about seventy years. In the reign of the despotic house of Stuarts, a family of our name fled from Scotland and settled in the north of Ireland. I was born in Goutmore, County of Tyrone, Ireland, January 8, 1790. My father was of the middle class. I very early acquired the art of reading. Being raised a Presbyterian, I was very early taught the catechism of the church. When eight years old I read Cook's voyage around the world. And always being fond of reading, as I grew to manhood read all of Rollen's Ancient History, with many other histories and most of the standard authors of my day. I never read novels and was always opposed to the reading of fictitious books, which have a tendency to corrupt the youth of our land.

Many of our relatives had emigrated to America. Ireland had been for many years in a state of war and internal commotion, but the great Irish rebellion of 1797-98 was now over. My father sold his little estate. On the 3rd of May, 1803, our whole family took shipping at Londonderry, a walled city in the north of Ireland.

After remaining a week in the harbor our ship sailed for America. Our voyage on the whole was very pleasant. Our noble vessel rose above the mountain waves. One calm morning we saw many sea monsters. The breath of the huge whales looked like so many smoke stacks. On the 4th of July, being Sabbath, it was announced by the sailors that land was ahead. O! what rejoicing. In a short time we could see land with the naked eye. We slowly made our way up the Delaware river, and that evening cast anchor safely at New Castle, where they brought on board fresh water and bread. The next day we weighed anchor and sailed up to Wilmington. There we were very fortunate in getting a wagon which took us into Pennsylvania, and in a few days we all got safely to your Uncle James Somerville's, who had crossed the ocean the year before. Two months after we landed mother died of consumption. She had suffered from this disease for some years. Your Aunt Mary Somerville was with her till she died. She early taught her children to say, "Our Father who art in heaven." She was buried in a cemetery a few miles east of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Not long after mother's death cousin Samuel Linn came up to Lancaster in his two-horse wagon and moved us down to Augusta County, Virginia. We rented a small farm near Staunton, the county seat, and got along finely. We bought a team of horses and raised good crops. Grain always sold high.

MY CHRISTIAN EXPERIENCE.

In the seventeenth year of my age I attended a camp meeting in Rockingham County, Virginia. As I approached the camp ground a religious awe came over me, a reverential fear fell upon me. I remained at the meeting from Saturday till Tuesday, August 4. At the close of the meeting all the congregation passed by the stand to bid the preachers farewell. I never expect to see such a time again. I was sitting near the stand laboring under strong emotion. It was suggested to me that my day of grace was passed. I arose to go out to a log nearby, but a weakness came over me, and I fell prostrate on the ground. I could raise neither hand nor foot. Passive in the hand of God, I lay as clay in the hand of the potter. I was carried and laid in a tent. My prayer was Lord Jesus, save me. In an instant, quick as thought, my whole system was reanimated. I jumped to my feet and shouted Glory to God in the highest! I felt that the atonement was sufficient for all my sins and the sins of the whole world. I then became a regular attendant at the Methodist Episcopal church in Staunton. I was well pleased with their way of expounding the Scriptures, their doctrines, government, etc., and after asking divine guidance decided to join this church. Instead of asking me long, hard questions, as I expected, the preacher, Rev. Joseph Carson, simply asked me if it was my desire "to flee the wrath to come and be saved from my sins, and become a member of our church."

In these two letters we find some facts of interest in the early history of our family, and learn something of how they lived in the mother country, and how they emigrated to America. But we have more facts concerning these families that come in naturally at this place.

In the north of Ireland, counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh, lived the Linn, Somerville and Montgomery families. The Linn and Somerville families had intermarried, as recorded in the introduction to Samuel Linn's letter.

William Montgomery, who owned a small tract of land near Five-mile-town, was of the first generation of our direct ancestors of whom we have any definite knowledge. He was not a large man; was bald-headed, fair complexioned, and had sandy hair. Even when an old man he stood erect and walked with a quick sturdy step. For his first wife he married a Miss Wilson. They had one son whom they named John. His second wife was the Widow Linn, whose maiden name was Margaret Somerville. She was a sister to the mother of Samuel Linn, the author of the manuscript of which we have a part. She already had one child, Mary Ann Linn, who married her cousin, James Somerville, and emigrated to America, probably in the year 1802. William Montgomery and his second wife had four children, Samuel, Margaret, Henry and William. They lived on their little estate in Ireland till 1803, when they came to America. The great Irish rebellion was over before they left, and the children have often since told their children of how they saw their neighbors' houses, barns and stacks go up in flames during 1797 and 1798. The account of their emigration and early life in America is recorded in Henry Montgomery's letter. The father emigrated to Ohio with his sons and lived to a ripe old age. He died in August, 1821, in his 70th year at the home of his son Samuel, in Perry Township, Licking County, Ohio, and was buried in the Bowling Green Cemetery, and removed to Newark in 1864.

From what we can learn of our ancestors, they were all believers in Christianity, and members of the Presbyterian church. They taught their children the catechism with all its lessons, after the strictest manner of the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians.

History of John Montgomery and His Descendants.

John, the oldest son of William Montgomery was born in Ireland. He stayed with the rest of the family through all their migrations till they came to Licking County, Ohio. Here he made his home with his half-brother Henry. There was not enough work at home to keep all busy, and none of them could endure to be idle, so John worked from home most of the time. Before many years he married Miss Prudence Channel, daughter of Joseph Channel, an old pioneer of the Bowlinggreen, and settled on one hundred and sixty acres of land south of Licking river. They lived here many years and raised a family of children. When just arrived at manhood his son Samuel accidentally cut himself with a butcher-knife while butchering, and died from the effects of the wound. The concourse of people at his funeral showed the esteem in which the family was held by the community. Late in life the father with his two sons, Joseph and Isom, sold out, bought and moved to the north part of the county near Brandon, where the sons lived many years. The father died August 27, 1849, the mother November 9, 1859.

One of the daughters married a Mr. Burgess, and moved to Indiana.

JOSEPH, one of the sons, was born January 18, 1817, and died December 25, 1875. He married Miss Emily Ide, who was born July 15, 1822, and Joseph Montgomery.

Mrs. Joseph Montgomery.

died March 21, 1888. They had eleven children—Samuel W., Rolin H., Henry B., Amos, John, Albert, Franklin, Ida V., Elwood, Forest and Squire.

Samuel W. was born May 7, 1844, married Celinda White March 26, 1865, and died July 7, 1869. They had three children—Sarah E., Cora A. and Alva W. Sarah E. was born June 29, 1866, and married Aaron D. Throp Nov. 25, 1886. Their children are Samuel A., born October 16, 1887; Walter D., born September 27, 1889; Daniel Guy, born January 1, 1891, and died in infancy; Earl Leroy, born February 25, 1892. They live at Evanston, Franklin County, Ohio. Cora A. was born November 7, 1867, and married John A. Hight October 31, 1889. Their children are Mary Dell, born April 24, 1891, and Irl V., born December 6, 1892. They live at Advance, Jasper County, Illinois. Alva W. was born May 5, 1869, and married Mrs. Mary E. Sutton August 25, 1891. They live at Centerberg, Knox County, Ohio.

Rolin H. was born March 31, 1846. He married Sarah E. Headington January 16, 1868. They have one son, John H., born February 16, 1871, who is a teacher. Their home is near Byhalia, Union County, Ohio.

Henry B. was born September 30, 1848. He married Mary J. Huffman March 5, 1868. They have four children—Homer F., Noel B., Bernice E. and Bertha A. Homer F. was born August 19, 1869. He married Josie Morgan August 31, 1893. They have two children, Earl, born November 15, 1895, and Mabel, born January 22, 1897. The mother died February 5, 1897. Noel was born March 31, 1873, and married Dell Collins March 30, 1895. Bernice E. was born February 8, 1877. She was married to Harry J. Skidmore January 1, 1896. Bertha was born September 3, 1881. Henry and all his children live at Lunda, Union County, Ohio, except Noel, who lives at Centerburg, Knox County, Ohio.

Amos was born August 2, 1850, and married Mary M. Huffman May 10, 1874. They live at Rich Hill, Knox County, Ohio.

John was born October 24, 1852, married Icedora Bruce December 21, 1879. They live at Rich Hill.

Albert was born December 26, 1854, and died December 30, 1861.

Franklin was born December 8, 1856. He married Sadie Durbin January 4, 1885. They had four children—Vincent, Mary Vera, Lous and Rose Lillian. Vera died February 23, 1894. The last two are twins. They live in Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Squire was born December 8, 1858. He married Ella Figley in February of 1880. They have three children—Bessie, born January 21, 1881; Clara, born August 19, 1884, and Murl, born in March of 1886. The mother died April 21, 1888, and November 19, 1890, he married Gurta Tadman. They live at Lunda, Ohio.

Ida V. was born March 5, 1861. She was married to George Parmer February 14, 1882. He died in June, 1885. February 12, 1890, she married W. J. Moore, with whom she lived till her death, August 24, 1896.

Elwood was born April 9, 1863, and married Ida Rineheart August 13, 1892. They have one child, Charles E., born January 17, 1894. They live at Rich Hill, Ohio.

Forest was born December 8, 1865. She married Martin Durbin January 25, 1888. They have two children, Lawrence P., born March 8, 1889, and Lorena F., born March 16, 1896. They live at Bangs, Knox County, Ohio.

All the family of Joseph are farmers.

Isom and his family all moved to Indiana and we have been unable to get any history of them.

The Pioneer Preacher.

Samuel Montgomery, the second son of William Montgomery, was born May 1, 1785. He became a Methodist preacher when nineteen years of age. He belonged to the Baltimore Conference, and traveled in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. He was stationed for some time in the city of Baltimore, and spent one year on a missionary tour through Canada. He married Miss Nancy Grimes, sister to his brothers' wives. They had no children. Being located he moved to Licking County, Ohio, about 1820, and settled in the northwest part of Perry Township, where he lived a number of years. He finally sold and moved to a farm he had bought, four miles east of Newark, a mile north of the Zanesville road, where he spent his latter days. He outlived his faithful wife nearly seven months, dying October 17, 1867, she having died March 23. His eyesight entirely failed him twelve or fifteen years before he died, but he had been such a student that his mind was richly stored, and no preacher in the country commanded such audiences as this blind old veteran of the cross.

The Erwin Family.

MARGARET, the only daughter of William Montgomery, Sr., was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, October 15, 1791, and came to this country with her parents in 1802. In 1809 she was married to Joseph Erwin, who was born in Staunton, Virginia, about the year 1782. They moved to Madison County, Ohio, in 1812, where they lived till 1852, when they removed with most of their children to DeWitt County, Illinois. Mr. Erwin enlisted in the United States service in the war with England in 1812. He died in Farmer City, Illinois, April 24, 1872, at the age of 90. Margaret, his wife, died there April 4, 1856.

They had eight children as follows:

Polly Ann, born April 7, 1811; died Oct. 1, 1821.

Margaret K., born January 6, 1813; died August 6, 1880.

Rebecca J., born February 11, 1815.

Samuel Wesley, born August 20, 1817; died June 25, 1832.

William, born July 9, 1819.

Nancy, born June 20, 1824; died January 4, 1891.

Elizabeth C., born May 14, 1827; died April 5, 1889.

Fidelia, born February 12, 1832; died April 26, 1832.

HISTORY OF THESE CHILDREN AND THEIR FAMILIES.

MARGARET R. ERWIN was born near Newark, Ohio, January 6, 1813. In 1833 she was married to Jacob Sidner, son of Philip Sidner, a Kentucky pioneer.

Mrs. Jacob Sidner.

He was born in Kentucky in 1799, but came to Ohio in childhood, and gradually accumulated much land near West Jefferson, Madison County. He was first married to Mary Ewing, who died in 1831. They had five children. He and Margaret had eight children as follows: Joseph E., Wesley, Mary Angeline, Della A., William Clark, Trimander C., David Theotis, and Joan. They lived together till February, 1880, when he died, and she, too, passed over the following August. They were both members of the Upper Glade M. E. church, of which he was a founder.

Joseph E. was born February 17, 1834, and in August, 1856, he married Mary E. Pierce. They moved to Iowa in 1879, in which State they now live, in the city of Des Moines. He is a carpenter by trade. They have nine living children—Lamar, Mrs. Della Dawson, Mrs. Angie Sommers, Arthur, Lawrence, George, Daisy, Lillie, and Frederick, all married except the youngest three.

Wesley is a farmer of West Jefferson, Madison County, Ohio. He was born January 20, 1836, and in November, 1856, married Lydia E. Jones. They have had eight children, seven of whom are now living, as follows: James J., S. McClellan, Charles Ervin, John D., Mary E., Margaret A. and Dollie L. James J. is a farmer near West Jefferson. He was born in 1857, taught school in young manhood, and in 1879 married Mary Roberts. They have seven children—Agnes, Howard, Pern, Elton, Minnie, Florence and Maxwell. The mother died April 2, 1896. Charles is a farmer near Jefferson. He was born September 10, 1863, and married Irena Smith in 1892. Their children are Guy, Eloise, and a babe. Mary E. was born March 18, 1866, and married Wm. H. Headley, a farmer of West Jefferson, February 22, 1888. Their children are Edith W., Russell, and Gladys. Dollie L. was born August 28, 1874, and was married to Charles W. Richardson in October, 1895. They live near West Jefferson. He is a teacher. Wesley Sidner's other three children are unmarried.

Marv Angeline was born June 2, 1839, and was married to George Phifer, of London, Ohio, in 1872. They had two children, John S., and Wesley O. John S. died December 24, 1891. His death weighed heavily upon the mother and she, too, died January 6, 1896.

William Clark lives on the Sidner homestead and has his postoffice at London. He was born January 5, 1845. He has been married three times. He first married Sarah J. Jones, of London, in February, 1870. They had two children, Ernest L. and Earl Anson. She died in 1881. His second wife was Elizabeth Rupert who died in January, 1893. He was married again in September, 1895, to Sarah Parker, of London.

David Theotis is a farmer at London, Ohio. He was born in November, 1847, and married Jessie Farrington, of West Jefferson in June, 1878. Their children are Grace, Frank, Vera, and Wade, aged respectively eighteen, sixteen, thirteen and ten.

The other three children of Jacob and Margaret Sidner died in childhood.

Thos. McDonald.

Mrs. Thos. McDonald.

William Erwin.

Mrs. William Erwin.

REBECCA married Thomas McDonald, who was born October 15, 1801, and died June 16, 1888. Their descendants are Mary Ann, John, Wesley E., Nancy M., Martha L. and William L.

WILLIAM married Sarah Stout. Their children were Eliza M., James W., Jessie S., Joseph M., Mary E., Ida J. and John W.

Nancy Rayburn.

NANCY married William E. Reyburn. Their children were Mattie L., Wesley E., David L., Lenora J., Joseph W., James C., Margaret C., Rebecca A., Mary D. and Jennie M.

Stephen Covey.

Mrs. Stephen Covey.

ELIZABETH C. married Stephen H. Covey. Their children are E. Pammy, Theotus L., Clark C. and Ulysses G.

History and Obituaries of Henry and William Montgomery and Their Wives.

The third son of William Montgomery was HENRY, who has left us a very brief autobiographical sketch. In 1810, emigration to Ohio being very popular in Virginia, and a number of friends and relatives having gone, the Montgomery family concluded to "go West." Through his brother Samuel, whose circuit took in Greenbrier County, Henry had learned of the Grimes family. In those days it was a long journey from Staunton to Greenbrier County, and still longer into Ohio. Henry started several weeks ahead of the emigrant wagons. Being on horseback he left the emigrant road at the source of the Greenbrier river and took a mountain path. After traveling this for one hundred miles he came to the home of Felix and Catharine Grimes. Arrangements were soon made, and on September 27, 1810, he married Mary Grimes, the second daughter. The next day they started on their wedding tour, taking all her effects with them on horseback, to meet the wagons on the emigrant road. Their bedding, cooking utensils, etc., was carried on pack saddles. Two of her brothers went along to help drive the four cows and take part of the horses back.

Thus the first one hundred miles of the journey was traveled. The party as it started westward consisted of the bride and groom, his father and two brothers, John and William. They pursued their journey, fraught with many toils and perils, yet gladdenened with its joys and pleasures, over the Alleghenies and crossed the Ohio at Marietta. They followed up the Muskingum to the village of Zanesville, and thence up the Licking to Newark, then a mere hamlet. There had been a heavy rain and North Fork was so high they could not cross, so they camped on the east side of the creek and bought horse feed of a Mr. Abraham Miller. Mr. Miller told them that corn was scarce and that people there and on up the creek had to go down to Bowling Green to buy corn.

Now our folks had intended to go up this stream and settle where Utica now is, for a great many from Augusta County and other parts of Virginia had settled there, among whom were the Conards, Lees, and Edmonds, who were family friends. Learning this they changed their minds and after a few days spent in looking around they rented a cabin of Mr. John Channel on the south side of Licking.

Now we find our heroic ancestors in their new home. From all we have read of pioneer history and what our parents have told us of the early times, let us picture to ourselves this pioneer home with its toils and privations, its achievements and joys.

Suffice it to say that the true pioneer spirit throbbed in each breast, and good crops and prosperity were the rewards of their labors.

After living here two years the two brothers, Henry and William, and their father gathered together all their money and bought one hundred acres on the Bowling Green, about five miles east of Newark.

In October of 1813, William went back to Virginia and married Margaret Grimes, his brother Henry's wife's youngest sister. After two weeks' visit in Virginia they started for the home in Ohio which the justly proud young husband had provided for his bride.

The two families lived happily together several years, when Henry sold his share to William and bought one hundred and five acres in Perry township, two miles north of Hanover. There was a cabin and ten acres of cleared land on it. It cost a little more than $400. This separation, however, did not lessen the strong attachment of these two families for each other, but it has continued down through the subsequent generations, and it is to be hoped that the same friendship, union and love will continue to bind together all who trace their ancestry back to the small relationship that abandoned the bleak northern hills of the Emerald Isle for this more fertile and congenial clime where they might "secure the blessings of liberty for themselves and their posterity."

As there was such close association between Henry and William, their histories have been carried along together. The leading events of their useful lives have been recorded, and we shall now stop to pay tribute to the precious memory of them and their noble life companions.

OBITUARY OF WILLIAM MONTGOMERY.

William Montgomery, the youngest of that generation, died at his home October 4, 1849, aged 56 years and 9 months. He was a faithful, good and true man, highly respected by his neighbors and all who knew him. He was a kind husband, a gentle and exemplary parent; a member of the M. E. church from his youth, and taught his children to love and keep the commandments of God's Holy Word. He was an enterprising and industrious man, and brought a large amount of money into his neighborhood by buying and selling stock. He never waited for his business to push him but always pushed his business. At his death he was on the high way to prosperity, owning several hundred acres of valuable land. But the Lord saw best to take him from the labors and toils of earth to the rest and joys of heaven. Have not the teachings and example of these parents had an influence on their children which has enabled them to keep pace and even in advance in farming and other business pursuits, and in the educational and professional interest of our growing country? The results are visible to all by the success achieved in the various vocations and professions of life, and the esteem in which all are held by their fellowmen.

OBITUARY OF MARGARET GRIMES MONTGOMERY.

Margaret Montgomery, wife of William Montgomery, was born in Bath County, Virginia, January 12, 1789, and died in Licking County, Ohio, March

Mrs Wm Montgomery.

21st, 1869. She joined the Methodist Episcopal church under the ministry of Rev. James Ward in 1804. In October, 1813, she was married to William Montgomery, with whom she came to Ohio and settled in Madison township, Licking County, where they lived happily till the husband's death in 1849. She lived on the homestead till her death. She was the mother of eleven children, four of whom preceded her to the grave, seven surviving to cherish the memory of a devoted mother. She was an earnest, pious christian, a kind neighbor, and a faithful friend. She was among the last of her contemporary pioneers to be called home to the final reward. She was one of the three sisters whose maiden name was Grimes, who married three brothers—Samuel, Henry, and William Montgomery. Two of these, Mary and Margaret, were members of the first Methodist society organized in Madison Township, under the pastorate of James B. Finley. Their place of worship was a hewed log house belonging to Mr. Moody, standing on the site of Charles W. Montgomery's present residence. The three sisters all lived to be over eighty years of age, but they all have finished their labors, and are now at rest with their Savior.

“The memory of the just shall be blessed.”

REV. H. GORTNER.

OBITUARY OF MARY GRIMES MONTGOMERY.

On the fourteenth day of October, 1865, Mary Grimes Montgomery, wife of Henry Montgomery, passed away in the eighty-first year of her age. She was born in Bath County, Virginia, in 1784. Was married to her now bereaved husband in 1810; moved to Ohio and settled four miles east of Newark, which then contained a few log houses and two small stores. She was endowed with a good mind which she employed in glorifying God. Her Christian character is untarnished. She was zealous, kind, and loving, and always full of faith, giving glory to God. For sixty-two years she was a strong advocate of the religion of Jesus Christ.

The following is her own language: "When I was quite young my parents moved to Greenbrier, now Pocahontas County, West Virginia, which was then infested by bands of Indians who burned buildings, drove away stock and even killed many of the settlers. My oldest brother, Arthur, was a soldier in the Indian wars, and took part in the great battle at Point Pleasant, at the mouth of the Kanawha river.

Mrs. Henry Montgomery.

"Among the first ministers of the gospel in that country was that man of God, Rev. James Ward. He often rested a few days at my father's house. Here he formed his first class, which was composed of myself and two other women. I always called him my father in the gospel. In the year 1803, at a camp-meeting, I gave my heart to God and my hand to the church. Soon after my conversion, while reading Mr. Wesley's sermon on 'Sin in a Believer,' I greatly desired a deeper work of grace. I sought it night and day, and while at another camp-meeting experienced the blessing of perfect love."

Mother Montgomery was loved by all who knew her. She raised a family of ten children, and all are professors of Christianity, and one is a minister of the Gospel. The funeral services were held in the Hanover M. E. church, of which she had been a member more than fifty years. The writer preached the funeral sermon from Rev. 9: 13-16, after which the body was tenderly laid away in the Hanover cemetery. The procession that followed was the largest ever witnessed in that part of the country.

REV. JAS. R. RIED.

HENRY MONTGOMERY

Was born in County of Tyrone, Ireland, January 8, 1790. He landed in

Henry Montgomery.

America with the rest of the family in 1803, and lived, until married, in Augusta County, Virginia. He joined the M. E. church in the year 1807, and was a member of the same sixty-four years. He died in 1870, in his eighty-first year, and was buried in the Hanover cemetery by the side of his wife.

History of the Grimes Family.

As gathered from W. G. Montgomery's manuscript and a letter he received from Davis Grimes of Dilley's Mills, W. Va., July 31, 1890.

Felix Grimes and his wife, Catharine, came from Armaugh County, North of Ireland, to America about the close of the French and Indian war. They moved to Greenbrier County, Virginia, during or soon after the Revolution. They raised a large family, five boys and four girls. Grandfather Felix Grimes died in 1814, at the age of 65 years, and grandmother died in 1826, at the age of 74.

ARTHUR, the oldest of the nine children lived in Pocahontas County. Was married twice. First wife's name was Waugh, second, Sharp. He had children from both wives. He died about 1850, in his eightieth year. One of his daughters married a McLauhlin, living near Huntersville, W. Va.

HENRY, the next son, died in 1804.

JOHN, the third son, owned a fine farm along the little levels of Greenbrier river, and represented his county for twelve years in the Virginia legislature. He afterward moved to Gallia County, Ohio, where he spent his latter days, died, and was buried. A large connection of Grimeses live there now.

JAMES, the fourth son raised a large family, seven boys and three girls. All are dead but three boys, one of whom lives in Iowa, one in Webster County, the other in Pocahontas County, West Virginia. Uncle James Grimes died in his 79th year, and was buried with those gone before in the family burying place in Mt. Zion cemetery.

CHARLES, the youngest son, lived on the homestead. He raised a large family, seven girls and three boys. The youngest daughter moved to Iowa, but all the rest live in Pocahontas County. Charles died in his eightieth year.

It seems that John, James and Charles Grimes married sisters named Burner, whose brother, George, lived at the source of the Greenbrier river. A branch of the family moved to Homer, Ohio, and Hannah Conrad married into that family.

Davis Grimes, from whom most of this information was obtained, is a son of Charles Grimes, and lives on the old homestead. He was born in 1836, and has two children, a son and a daughter.

The following was prepared by James M. (Morg.) Watts in 1890, to be contributed to the Montgomery history, being gathered by W. G. Montgomery:

Three of the Grimes sisters, Nancy, Mary, and Margaret, married Samuel, Henry, and William Montgomery. But the oldest, Sally, married James Waddell in 1797. He was born December 7, 1774, in Virginia; she January 15, 1780. They had six children: John, Catharine, Elizabeth, Polly, Nancy, Margaret, all born in Pocahontas County, Virginia. In 1811 she died, leaving Margaret six weeks old. The child was cared for by its aunt, Nancy Grimes, while the father came to Ohio to found a new home. The next year, 1812, he returned and took all his children and effects to his new home, seven miles west of the present city of Gallipolis, Ohio. All their goods were carried in a one horse cart and a pack saddle, but by the willing help of all hands, good management and a kind Providence, they soon established a good home and surrounded themselves with all the comforts of life. He worked hard all week and preached on Sunday, services being held at his own and neighbor's homes. His children all grew up and were married.

Catharine married James Williams and had ten children: Sally, Mary, Selesthal, Elizabeth, Franklin, Lydia, Nancy, Margaret, Lucinda, James. Six of these have died. Those still living are Mary Margaret, Elizabeth and Lucinda.

John married Lucinda Armstrong. They had six children: Robert, Mary, Sarah, Lydia, Nancy, and Lucinda. Robert and Mary died in infancy, Sarah married William Wombeldorf; Lydia, Reuben Hay; Nancy, Perry Roach; Lucinda, Robert McLead.

Elizabeth married George Rader. They had four children: James, John, William and Mary. All are dead but Mary.

Polly married Elisha Campbell. They had eight children: Margaret, James, Elizabeth, Nancy, Samuel M., John W., Sarah, Lydia. Three are dead, James, Sarah and John.

Nancy married John Richardson. They had no children, she only living about a year after marriage.

Margaret married James Watts. They had thirteen children: James M., Elizabeth, David A., John W., Nancy, Ross, Malissa, Louisa, Lydia, Matilda, Harriet and Clark R. Seven of these are dead and six living—James M., Elizabeth, John W., Lydia, Malissa, and Harriet.

From James and Sally Waddell have sprung many of the prominent families of Southern Ohio. All of the six children that came from Virginia to Ohio in 1812, have passed away but Polly Campbell, who is now 88 years old, and for one of that age, still possesses remarkable strength of both mind and body. The writer received much of what is here written from her. She speaks thus of her father's last sickness: "When I left him to go home to my children for a short time, he told me he might not be here when I returned, and said, 'Polly, I feel that I can say with Paul I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith.' Then quoted the 8th of Timothy and other passages. Just before his death he called his children around him and told them he had tried to be a good father to them in providing for their temporal wants, and had tried to teach them the way to heaven. He died at his home November 24, 1848."

Polly Campbell was still living and in good health in the winter of 1897, being 94 years old, the greatest age attained by any of our relatives.

Grimes Biographic Notes.

This paper is devoted to the memory of two persons whose numerous descendants have formed an influential element of our citizenship for the past seventy-five years.

Felix Grimes, the pioneer, and his wife, Catharine, were natives of Ireland. The ship on which they sailed came near being lost in mid-ocean. At one time the masts were touching the waves and the water pouring in over the ship's side. The passengers and some of the sailors were in frantic terror,—some were praying, some cursing and swearing, and some wildly screaming with fright. The captain and some of the crew were self-possessed enough to urge the passengers to the opposite side of the vessel, and it righted at once, and the voyage was made in safety thereafter. It took about three months to make the crossing. The landing was at New Castle, most probably, and some time was spent in Pennsylvania. Following the tide of emigration, these persons finally located a home on the uplands overlooking the valley of Knapp's Creek from the west, nine or ten miles from Huntersville. It is believed they settled here about 1770. The original name was Graham, but it came to be abbreviated to Grimes, and has been so written and pronounced all along.

Felix Grimes settled in the unbroken forest on lands now occupied by Morgan Grimes, the heirs of the late Davis Grimes, and others in their vicinity. The original site is now (1897) in the possession of Margaret Grimes, near Mt. Zion church. Traces of the pioneer home are yet discernable near her residence. It is probable the Grimes relationship will have a reunion before long at the place, and will mark the spot with a memorial stone. It was here these worthy persons reared their family consisting of five sons and four daughters: Margaret, Mary, Sally, and Nancy; Arthur, John, Charles, Henry and James.

Margaret Grimes married William Montgomery, and settled in Licking County, Ohio.

Nancy Grimes was married to Rev. Samuel C. Montgomery, a Methodist minister in the same county.

Mary Grimes was married to Henry Montgomery, of Ohio, and Sally married a son of Alexander Waddell, the Marvin pioneer, and moved to Gallipolis, Ohio.

ARTHUR GRIMES, eldest son of Felix, married Miss Mary Sharp, a sister of the late William Sharp, near Verdant Valley. Their children were Rachel, who married Solomon Buzzard; Henry, who married

Hester Buzzard, daughter of Reuben Buzzard, of Pendleton County. Henry's sons were Peter and Franklin, now in Iowa; Zane and Hugh, near Frost; David, in Harrison County. Hugh and David were Union soldiers, and Zane also.

Jane married Leonidas Bowyers. She died in Highland County. Her sons, Cicero and James Leonard Bowyers, went to Parkersburg, West Virginia.

John died in Buckhannon during the late war between the States.

David married Mary Grimes, daughter of James Grimes, son of Felix, the pioneer. Their children: Hanson married Mary Nottingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nottingham, near Glade Hill. Hanson's only child, Minnie Grimes, is now Mrs. Earl Arbogast, of Green Bank. Margaret first married W. H. Sims. After his decease she married Erasmus Williams, now living near the Hot Springs, Virginia, and is the mother of fourteen children. Amanda married Charles O. W. Sharp, near Frost. She is the mother of eight children. Her son Hanson is in Central America, and Frank is in Louisiana. Leah married Rev. George P. Hannah, now in Upshur County. She is the mother of seven children—four living and three dead. Mr. Hannah is an esteemed and useful minister of the M. E. church.

Rebecca married Thomas Drinnan, settled in Buckhannon, thence to Parkersburg, thence to Chillicothe, Ohio. She was the mother of four children. One son, Franklin, and three daughters, names not remembered.

Arthur Grimes, Jr., married Rebecca Cumpston, and lived awhile on the old homestead, then moved to Upshur County. His son, Newton, died young. Lavinia married Silas Helmick. Rebecca Jane is married and lives in Upshur. Angeline is the youngest.

HON. JOHN GRIMES, son of Felix, the pioneer, married Elizabeth Burner, of Travelers Repose, and lived near Hillsboro on the farm now owned by Pocahontas County for an infirmary. There were six children: Henry died in youth. Abraham married Miss Callison, and finally moved to Gallia County, Ohio, so did Wesley and Fletcher. Nancy married a Mr. Morrison and settled in Upshur County, West Virginia. Elizabeth married William McCoy and went to Ohio. Late in life Mr. Grimes went to Ohio to be with his sons.

Hon. John Grimes was a person of fine appearance, and possessed natural endowments of a high order, and made the most of his limited opportunities for mental improvement. He represented Pocahontas as a Democrat in the House of Delegates in 1841-42. Upon his motion charters were granted for three academies—Hillsboro, Huntersville, and Green Bank. He was also a very prominent member of his church—the Methodist Episcopal.

CHARLES GRIMES, son of Felix, the emigrant, married Martha Buzzard, daughter of Reuben Buzzard, Sr., of Glade Hill. His family consisted of ten children. John Wesley died young. Morgan married Jane, daughter of Major Daniel McLaughlin, near Green Bank. Morgan's children are: John Wesley, at home; Cora is the wife of the Rev. Jasper N. Sharp, a member of the West Virginia M. E. Conference, and is now in Preston County; Mantie is Mrs. George Bambrick, near Dilley's Mill, and Onie Jane is at home with her parents. Morgan Grimes, Esq., was a Union soldier during the late war between the States, and so was his relative, W. C. Grimes.

William Davis E. F. married Margaret Paugh, and settled on a section of the old homestead. He recently died, and is survived by his widow and two children—Ida Missouri, who married Clay Drepperd, and Elmer E. Grimes, for two years past a student at the Hillsboro high school.

Susan L. married Samuel Auldridge. She was the mother of five children: Tillotson Morgan lives at Buckeye, Charles died in Greenbrier, Luther lives near Mill Point, Kenney near Hillsboro, Elizabeth married William Clendennin and resides near Hillsboro.

Margaret Montgomery married Hugh Mc. Carpenter and settled near Dunmore, on Thomas Creek. She was the mother of five children: Charles went to Texas, Hanson and Fletcher live near Dunmore, Rachel married Craighin Grimes, a prominent teacher of public schools, who lives near Mill Point.

Elizabeth Catherine died during the war,—a young woman of much amiability of character.

Mary Cullum, was married to Rev. George Poage Wanless, a widely known and much esteemed minister of the M. E. church. Towards the close of his long and useful ministerial service he was presiding elder of the Roanoke district. At his death he was a citizen of Montgomery County, Virginia. Her children were Josie Loretta, wife of Bently Olinger, of Price's Fork, Virginia, who was killed while at work on New River Bridge. Della Wanless married William Snedegar on Droop Mountain, who is now a merchant at Lafayette, Montgomery County, Virginia. Samuel Wanless is a young Methodist minister recently licensed. Virgie Wanless is the wife of U. S. A. Hevener, a Methodist minister now in Tennessee. Fannie Wanless died young.

Loretta Jane is the wife of William Jefferson Moore, who lives on a part of the John Moore homestead. She is the mother of nine children: George E. Moore, a well known teacher of public schools and instructor in vocal music; Charles K. Moore and Ira Hays Moore, Martha E., Carrie F., Fannie M., who is the wife of Christopher McLaughlin, near Dunmore; Myrtle, and Hattie M.

Rachel A. was married to A. Jackson Moore, Esq., on Back Alleghany. She has seven children: Forest, Thomas, Virgie, now Mrs. John Silva, near Mill Point; Samuel, Elmer, Lillie and, Lanty.

Martha S. became the wife of Peter H. Grimes, and settled at Ola, in Iowa. The names of her six children are Thelia, Seba, Mary, Ezra, Brumbery and Henry.

HENRY GRIMES, son of Felix, died in youth.

JAMES GRIMES, the last of the sons of Felix, the pioneer, married Mary Burner, of the Upper Tract, a sister of the late George Burner, Esq. James settled on that section of the Felix Grimes lands now held by Mrs. Mary Fertig. There were nine children, viz:

Abraham, who married Margaret Brady, daughter of Samuel Brady, and settled in Webster County, West Virginia, and reared a large family. Rev. Addison Grimes, book agent, is one of Abraham's sons. Abraham died a year or so since, aged seventy years.

Allen married Frances Weiford, and after her death married Fannie Silva and lived on Stamping Creek. His children are Craigin B. Grimes, Elizabeth, who is the wife of Thomas Rigsby, in Webster County; Georgiana, the wife of Harry Boblitt, on Stamping Creek; J. Barnett Grimes, of Hill's Creek, a prominent teacher; James Grimes, on Stamping Creek; Mary, the wife of Willard Overholt, and Lucy, the wife of Emmet Nottingham, on Stamping Creek.

George married Nancy Friel, daughter of the late Josiah Friel, and settled above Mill Point.

George C. married Eleanor Weiford, and moved to Iowa, and reared seven children: Rettie, Scott, Granville, William, Esta, and Ziona are the names now remembered by their friends.

Harvey married Henrietta Thurman, in Upshur County, where he lived and died.

Bryson died in youth, just before the war.

Catherine married Leonard Bowyer as his second wife.

Mary married David Grimes.

Elizabeth married James Weiford, of Hillsboro. These two, Brown and Nixon Weiford, are her sons; also the Rev. Grattan S. Weiford, of Dilly's Mill.

This brings the chronicles of the Grimes relationship within the memory and observation of their living friends, and a basis is furnished for the use of some future compiler. The writer gratefully appreciates the patient and efficient assistance rendered him by Morgan Grimes and Mrs. Mantie Bambrick.

Arthur Grimes and Levi Moore, son of Levi, the pioneer, and afterwards a member of the Legislature, went on a scout to Clover Lick to see if Indians were around. Seeing no sign, they went to the house, placed their guns just outside the door, and finding a bed within laid down and fell asleep. Arthur dreamed of being bitten by a rattlesnake, sprang out of bed and awakened Moore. The dog was growling at Indians stealing towards the house. The men seized their guns and escaped, leaving the dog shut up in the house. The dog soon came to them, however. The Indians fired the building, cut a pair of moccasins from a dressed deer skin belonging to old "Ben," amused themselves by stripping the feathers from two live roosters to see their antics.

When they reported to Jacob Warwick about the affair, he told them that whenever he dreamed of wild turkeys he was sure of having trouble with the Indians very soon.—W. T. P. in Pocahontas Times of April 9, 1897.

History of the Children of Henry and Mary Montgomery and Their Families.

Henry Montgomery was born January 8, 1790, died in 1870.

Mary Grimes Montgomery was born in 1784, died October 14, 1865.

Margaret Montgomery Evans was born September 17, 1811.

Wesley G. Montgomery was born June 2, 1813.

James S. Montgomery was born April 27, 1815.

Catharine Montgomery Conard was born March 28, 1817.

Nancy Montgomery Martin was born November 7, 1818.

William W. Montgomery was born December 5, 1820.

Sarah Ann Montgomery was born December 4, 1822.

John H. Montgomery was born September 17, 1825.

Milton L. Montgomery was born March 31, 1828.

Samuel Hamaline Montgomery was born June 15, 1830.

MARGARET, the oldest child was born in 1811, south of Licking river, and died May 4, 1871. She lived with her parents till November 6, 1828, when she was married to John L. Evans. He was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, January 14, 1801, and came with his parents to Licking County, Ohio, in 1803, where he lived till his death, January 30, 1883.

In early life he followed the trade of masonry, and to him belongs the honor of building the first brick building and chimney in Newark. Before he

ABSTRACT FROM W. G. MONTGOMERY'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

Rev. Wesley Grimes Montgomery, A. M., oldest son of Henry and Mary Montgomery, was born June 2, 1813. There were no public schools in those days, so after going to a subscription school in the country for a time, I attended two terms in Newark. At the age of seventeen I attended Denison University one term; and then taught near home four terms. After spending two years and six months at the Ohio University at Athens, I taught during the year 1834, in Columbus. In 1835 went to Augusta College, Kentucky, and graduated in the fall of 1837, and in a few weeks joined the Kentucky Conference. I was an itinerant minister twelve years, part of the time on circuits, part in stations and part as Presiding Elder. After traveling two years was married to Mrs. Nancy Pinkston Devenport, daughter of Elisha Green, of Madison County, Kentucky. She was a devoted Christian and was a great help to me in my work, but the Lord called her from me in 1843. In 1845, I attended the conference of the southern churches at Louisville, Kentucky, where the M. E. Church South was organized. I was transferred to the Indian Mission Conference, and stationed at Ft. Coffee, Choctaw Nation, Indian Territory, where I had charge of a boys' school. There were forty boys in attendance. They were taught how to work on the farm and at trades, the common English branches, and one class in Latin and Greek. There was a similar girls' school six miles from there. These schools were entirely supported on one thousand dollars from the M. E. church South, and two thousand from the Government yearly. My health failed and the next year I was transferred back to the Kentucky Conference, with one year to regain my health.

W. G. Montgomery.

Mrs. W. G. Montgomery.

In August, of 1849, I married Miss Julia Ann Plummer, daughter of Benjamin Plummer, Esq., of Fleming County, Kentucky. The same fall received a certificate of location at my own request, and moved back to Ohio. We had four children—Mary C., Martha A., Sarah E., and Henry B. B.

Mary Catharine was born at Brownsville, O., July 2, 1850. She was married to Julius Eggleston Newman, M. D., of Gilboa, Ohio, August 16, 1881. Their three childrens' names are Jessie Eugenie, Lawrence Montgomery, and Mary Cecilia, who died while a babe. Mary died January 21, 1892.

Martha Amanda, born in Etna, Ohio, April 20, 1852, and was married to Delmon Fulk, of Leipsic, Ohio, February 16, 1869. They had seven children: Etta, born November 24, 1869, died March 24, 1885; Charles Wesley, born February 17, 1872, and was married October 3, 1895, to Anna Mary Frantz. Their child, Dee Craig, was born September 10, 1896; Edwin Lorenzo, was born September 24, 1875; Clarence D. and Florence A. were born July 7, 1878, and died October 9 and 8, respectively, the same year; Bessie, born September 6, 1883; Chester, born September 12, 1885, and died September 19, 1885; Byron Wilbur, born April 8, 1890. The mother died April 12, 1890.

Sarah Elizabeth, born in Gilboa, Ohio, December 2, 1854, and died when three years old.

Henry Bascom Biddleman, born June 18, 1857, on our farm in Putnam County, Ohio. He studied medicine in Cincinnati. Was married to Mary E. Harmon, of Putnam County. They have two children, Plummer Harmon, born June 30, 1885, and Mary Leonora, born April 8, 1887. They now live in Winona, Kansas. [At present writing live in Los Angeles, California.]

I was married a third time to Miss Matilda Oliver, of Putnam County. When I went to Putnam County I only had four hundred dollars, which I invested in land, and my property has grown to many times this value. During all my life I have tried to do what good I could in the various capacities in which I have served.

Wesley Grimes Montgomery died at Gilboa, Ohio, October 27, 1892, and was buried there in the Harman cemetery.

JAMES SOMERVILLE Montgomery, third child of Henry and Mary Montgomery was born in Licking

Jas. Montgomery.

Mrs. Jas. Montgomery.

County, Ohio, April 27, 1815, and died March 4, 1896. His boyhood days were spent at home, receiving the benefits of the subscription school in the neighborhood. He joined the M. E. church in youth and remained a member till death. He was married on the 9th of September, 1841, to Sarah E. Waddell, born November 16, 1816, the daughter of James Waddell and his second wife, of Gallia County, Ohio. They have four children—L. Kate, born January 12, 1844; William H., born July 28, 1848; Mary, born August 30, 1856, and J. Eddie, born November 24, 1858. He settled on his farm in St. Albans township, Licking County, Ohio, in January 1842, it then being all woods. He lived here more than fifty-four years, clearing up the land and erecting large buildings, and by continued labor and strict economy was privileged to spend his latter days surrounded with all the comforts of a pleasant rural home. On the 9th of September, 1891, they celebrated their golden wedding, a large number of relatives and friends being present. Mary resides at the homestead with her mother.

William was married to Anna B., daughter of Timothy and Mary Cooley, of Pataskala, Ohio, and now lives one mile west of the homestead. They have two children, Orville C., born November 15, 1881, and Lela B., born July 3, 1886.

daughter of Adam Seymour, of pioneer fame, March 22, 1838. They moved to a farm of 160 acres in Liberty township, and have lived there ever since. After a happy companionship of over fifty-six years she died August 27, 1894, being 80 years, 3 months and 1 day old. She was an earnest supporter of Christianity from early life and died in the faith of the Gospel. He has made agriculture a study in order to make his farm as productive as possible. He bought and sold cattle for a great many years and before the railroads were built, drove them to Pittsburg market. He has plowed with all kinds of plows from the wooden mould board to the latest steel plows. He has harvested with all harvesters, from the sickle to the self-binder. He has thrashed with all thrashers, from the flail to the latest improved steam thrasher. He was stricken with blindness when about thirty, and after ten years partially regained his sight. But since 1881 he has been unable to read. He has traveled to all the principal places in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and is now on his way to his eighty-third milestone, walking with his cane, and it is a great comfort to him to look back over his life and know that he has given his influence in favor of the Christian religion.

The history of the family of Samuel and Mary Montgomery, consisting of ten children, is as follows:

Mary Jane, born January 17, 1839. She was educated at Delaware, Ohio, and taught in the common schools for five years. She was married to Thomas Kislingberry, of Newark, Ohio, April 10, 1862, died February 29, 1864, and was buried in Cedar Hill cemetery. She left a child, Adam Clark, only two weeks old, who was married December 25, 1890, to Cora Channel.

William Clark, was born March 23, 1840. He lived with his parents till November, 1861, when he joined the 76th O. V. I., and served as color bearer. He was in the battles of Fort Donelson, Shilo, Corinth, and Arkansas Post.

W. C. Montgomery.

Was on the first boats that went in sight of Vicksburg under General Wood. Was one of the 150 volunteers to go to Yazoo City with orders to burn the place, but failed on account of low water in the Yazoo river. Went to Jackson with General Grant when he cut off from all communication. Was at the great siege of Vicksburg forty-one days, and the day of the great charge was placed on a high point with the colors to signal our General provided the rebels tried to mass their forces in front of us during the charge. At this siege he drank from a pool with three dead horses in it and was only half a mile from the Pearl river at the time. After the siege they went up the Mississippi to Memphis and across to Lookout mountain. Was in the fight above the clouds and saw the firing after night, which was a grand spectacle. Was in the charge at Missionary Ridge, where his regiment captured about four hundred prisoners. Two days later they went to Ringgold, Georgia, where he lost his right arm four inches below the shoulder, and received two wounds in the body while leading in a desperate charge. This was November 27 1863. When discharged he received a gold medal from his regiment bearing the inscription: "For gallantry on the field of battle November 27, 1863."

He was married November 29, 1864, the same month he was discharged from the army, to Hannah H. Rodebeck, of New Way, Ohio, who was born October 6, 1840. They live on their farm a mile south of Appleton, Ohio. They have three children: Orren Edwin, born November 14, 1865, married May Bennett, November 19, 1890. Their boy, Harry Forest, was born July 31, 1892. They live three and one-half miles north of Alexandria. Alberta, born March 21, 1873, married to John Crouse, of Appleton, January 1, 1895. They have a little girl, Ada Laura, born December 16, 1895. Lewis B., born January 5, 1879, and lives at home.

Adam C., born October 13, 1842. He attended school at Delaware, but died April 25, 1862.

James Oren, born April 16, 1844. He attended school at Delaware, taught one year and then turned to farming. He married Miss Emily C. Vanfossen. They had three children—Bertha L., born November 17, 1870, married Edward Wright in 1893, and have a son, Forest, born in 1894; J. Clyde, born September 21, 1873; William Clay, born April 9, 1875, married Mary Canada, of Hartford, August 19, 1896. The mother died a happy Christian, August 13, 1880, after eight months' illness. In 1882 he married Mrs. Martha Smith-Coffman, and in 1885 moved to Appleton to keep store. His second wife died in 1893, after two years' illness. He married Mrs. Lucinda G. Gutridge (nee Burge) November 15, 1895, with whom he now lives in Appleton.

Elizabeth Amanda, was born February 25, 1846. She married Eli Stockberger, December 27, 1866, and died April 9, 1872. They had four children—Jennie, born in 1867, married Howard Collins in 1889; Cora married Frank Holler, December 25, 1889, and has two children, Homer, born in 1890, and Grace, born in 1894; Leota, born April 9, 1872, married Wilson Nash in 1892, and died in March, 1896, leaving one son, Wilson Paul, born November 23, 1893; Loton, born April 7, 1872, and died in June, 1872. Loton and Leota were twins.

Emily C. was born October 14, 1848. She lived with her parents till November 24, 1892, when she married Shouey M. Swickard, of New Albany, Ohio, with whom she now lives at the homestead with her aged father, two miles south of Appleton.

Margaret A. was born February 21, 1850. She attended school at Delaware two years and graduated in music at the Granville Female College. She taught music and graded schools for two and a half years in Wyandotte County, Ohio, when she died suddenly from inflammatory rheumatism, March 4, 1881. She was brought home for burial.

Louisa, born July 5, 1852, died June 18, 1853.

Bruce Edwin was born December 28, 1856. He married Addie Saxton, September 23, 1880. They have one son, David Ralph, born August 28, 1885. They live near Johnstown.

Henrietta, born October 30, 1859, received her education at Granville Female College, and married Royal Bruce, April 6, 1882. They live near Highwater (Sylvania) with their six children—Thomas Samuel, born March 8, 1883; Robert Royal, born August 30, 1884; Nina Beatrice, born July 4, 1886; Lena Luella, born May 11, 1888; Mary, born December 7, 1890; and John, born November 2, 1892.

NANCY, the second child of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born in Madison township, Licking County, Ohio, January 19, 1817. She lived with her parents and attended public school, till December 8, 1836, when she was married to James H., son of Jacob and Nancy Wilson, who was born April 14, 1808. He lived in a farm house about a mile north on what is now Buena Vista street, Newark, Ohio, till his marriage, when they settled on a farm a mile west of the bride's father's farm. They lived there till his death, which occurred November 2, 1881. She continued to live on the farm till Nancy and Jacob Wilson.

October of 1887, when she went to Newark to live with Mrs. Anna Stone, whom she took to raise when nine years old. Their home is No. 42 Grand avenue.

She had one son, Jacob Wesley, born September 25, 1837. He was captain of a part company that was organized for the army but was united with another at Columbus, so he was relieved and returned home. When twenty-seven he married Margaret, daughter of James and Margaret Patterson, of Madison township. They had one daughter, Mary E., born February 9, 1869. The father died May 21, 1878, the mother November 2, 1887. Mary lived with her mother till she died, then made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Belford, in Granville, Ohio, where she died August 26, 1891.

CHARLES W., third child of William and Margaret

C. W. Montgomery.

Montgomery, was born December 5, 1818, in Madison township, Licking County, Ohio. His early recollections are that the country was new and mostly in timber; wild game, such as deer, turkey and many other birds and animals being plenty. He can remember when the first shovelfull of earth was taken out of the Ohio canal by DeWitt Clinton, of New York, which occurred July 4, 1825. Boats were afloat in about the fall of 1829. Before the opening of this canal, what few of our goods that were not manufactured at home, were brought by six horse teams from Baltimore. Opportunities for education were quite limited, there being only a few scattering country log school houses. He spent about three months of each winter at these schools, and finally one term at Granville College in the days of Professors Pratt, Carter and Stevens.

At about the age of twenty he was employed at Mary Ann Furnace. His work was diversified, working in the store, taking up cord wood, weighing ore, and selling castings for the company in all parts of the State. The company was composed of Moore & Brice. After being there nearly a year he was transferred to Gen. B. W. Brice's store in Newark, and was there nearly two years. On March 8, 1841, he formed a partnership with D. Moore, Jr., in mercantile business in Newark, in the room now occupied by McCune, Owens & Co., where they remained about five years. They had a milling business connected with the store. At the same time they had a branch store at Perryton. He sold his interest in Newark and went into partnership with his brother Henry, at Perryton. They closed up there April 1, 1848, and returned to Newark.

On August 15, 1848, he married Ellinda, daughter of Levi Claypool, of Muskingum County. He closed up business April 1, 1850, and went to a farm three miles east of Newark, known as the John Channell farm. On April 1, 1853, he bought the farm where they now reside, known as the Bowling Green or Montour's Point farm, where it is said the first settlement in Licking County was made. His wife died April 15, 1861. They had seven children—Thomas W., Levi C., Mary Margaret Cecilia, Charles A., Emma E., Anna L. and Felix S.

On November 1, 1865, he married for his second wife Lucinda, daughter of James Stump, of Muskingum County. They have three children—Minnie, James W. and Mabel Grace.

All his children are are living except Mary Margaret Celia, who died in infancy, and Charles A. who died August 7, 1886, in Cherry Vale, Kansas. His remains were interred in Cedar Hill cemetery at Newark. He was an attorney at law, having graduated at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., also at Boston, Mass., law school. His prospects for business were flattering, but was cut down in youth. He was never married. Thomas W. married Mary Knossman. Levi married Emily O'Bannon. Anna L. married Charles O'Bannon. Felix married Emily McVeigh. All the rest are single. Since coming to the farm Charles W. has been principally engaged in feeding and shipping live stock. He has also traveled considerable. He rode to New York City on horseback when a young man, also went by stage and the lakes, and later by rail. He saw and was aboard the first boat that ever crossed the Atlantic by steam in 1841 or 1842, while loading on coal in the East River. It had been thought impossible to carry enough coal for the journey. He has now about retired from active business but still feeds over a hundred cattle every winter on his own farm. He has some winters fed more than two thousand sheep.

MARGARET ANN, fourth child of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born June 25, 1821, being a twin sister to William Clark. She lived with her parents till Christmas time, 1841, when she was married to James A. Taylor, who lived just west of the Bowling Green church, where his family still lives. After a lingering illness of six months she passed on to her reward, July 7, 1846. Mr. Taylor married again in 1851, and raised a family. He died December 15, 1895.

WILLIAM CLARK, fifth child of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born in Madison township, Licking County, Ohio, June 25, 1821. He received a common school education and engaged in farming with his father, also bought and sold cattle extensively, selling the first lot of cattle ever sold by weight in the county. This was a lot of seventy head sold at two cents per pound to a Mr. Hamilton, of Muskingum County. He joined the M. E. church at Bowling Green in the winter of 1848. He was united in marriage with Priscilla, daughter of Griffith and Eliza Jones of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, May 17, 1849. They have three children—Martha A., William G., and Harvey W.

Martha was born March 22, 1850. She married Cary W. Montgomery, December 31, 1890.

William was born October 4, 1851, and married Jessie L. Williams, daughter of John F. and Amelia Williams, of Hanover, Ohio, November 21, 1878, and moved to Emporia, Kansas, in 1884. They have two children—Anna Amelia, born September 21, 1879, and William Harvey, born in September, 1887. He is now an agent for the American Express Company at Emporia.

Harvey was born February 12, 1853, and married Lucy B., daughter of Edward T. and Virginia Crosse, of Alleghaney, Pennsylvania, October 14, 1896. He lives with his parents on the farm just east of the Bowling Green church. They have one child, Lucilla Crosse, born August 12, 1897.

HENRY A., the sixth child of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born April 24, 1824, in Madison township, Licking County, Ohio. His early life was spent on the farm and attending a three months' school in winter in the log cabin school house with greased paper windows and large fire place. On September 22, 1844, he left home to keep store in Elizabethtown (now Perryton), Licking County, where he continued till the autumn of 1848. In 1846 he made a trip to Baltimore to buy goods, going by stage to Cumberland, Maryland, thence by train, the B. & O. road being finished to that point.

The goods came by rail to Cumberland, from there to Brownsville, Pennsylvania, by large road wagons, thence to Marietta and Zanesville by boat on the Monongahala, Ohio and Muskingum rivers. The cost would be about $2.50 per hundred pounds.

January 12, 1847, he married Mary E., daughter of Beverly and Margaret Lemert. Mr. Lemert was born in Fargnar County, Virginia, and emigrated to Henry A. Montgomery.

Mrs. Henry A. Montgomery.

Ohio in 1825. Mrs. Lemert was born near Irville, Ohio, being the daughter of Col. Nathan Fleming, who came to that place in 1808.

In 1849 he removed to Newark and engaged in the meat business. This not being congenial he purchased a farm near Elizabethtown and moved to it. After toiling there for seven years he lost one hundred acres of it and half he was worth through a defective title. In 1858 he sold the rest and purchased the farm where he now lives.

During the war he spent three months and ten days as lieutenant of Company H, 159th O. V. I., a short time at Maryland Heights, Maryland, but most of the time in the forts around Baltimore.

To H. A. and Mary E. Montgomery ten children were born, seven of whom are living. Those dead are: Beverly Lemert, born November 13, 1847, and died June 25, 1848; Minerva Ellen, born November 6, 1852, and died March 7, 1854; Charles Locke, born January 12, 1857, and died November 13, 1869.

The following are the living children and their families:

Edward E., born at Newark, Ohio, May 15, 1849, received the degree of B. S. at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, in 1871. He read medicine one year in Newark, Ohio, under Dr. J. J. Hamill, a part of which time he taught a private school; entered Jefferson Medical College in the fall of 1872, graduated president of the class in March, 1874. He entered the Philadelphia Hospital as resident physician, where he served one year; began private practice in July, 1875. Married Helen Buckley, of Philadelphia, the latter part of 1876. During 1875-6 he had charge of the poor district under the Guardians of the Poor. He taught physiology and anatomy for four years to private classes in Jefferson Medical College. During this time he also taught operative surgery to private classes in the Women's Medical College, lectured on skin diseases to the summer classes, and was visiting surgeon to the Women's Hospital. In 1878 he was elected visiting obstetrician to the Philadelphia Hospital, which position he occupied for fifteen years. In 1886 he was elected professor of gynecology, and in 1891 professor of obstetrics in the Medico-Chirurgical College, holding both these chairs in 1891-2. In 1892 he was elected professor of clinical gynecology in the Jefferson Medical College, which position he now holds. In addition to these, he is gynecologist to the Jefferson and St. Joseph's Hospitals, consulting gynecologist to the Lying-in Charity, and has a private hospital of his own. He is a member of the County Medical, State Medical and the Philadelphia Obstetrical Societies, and of the American Medical Association, the American Gynecological Society, and the College of Physicians. He is ex-president of the Northern Medical Association, the Philadelphia Clinical Society, the American Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and the Alumni Association of Jefferson Medical College; is at present president of the Philadelphia Obstetrical Society and the Pennsylvania State Medical Society. He has had two children, one of whom, a daughter, is still living.

Alice E. was born in Newark, Ohio, January 26, 1851. She attended school at Granville and Delaware, Ohio. She was married, November 9, 1876, to James E. Bradfield, of Licking County. They had five children, three of whom, James Harvey, Louis and Harriet, are living. They moved to Kansas in September, 1883, and now live in Emporia.

Henry Clay was born near Perryton, December 24, 1854. He attended school at Granville and Delaware. He married Miss Lillian Zollers, December 8, 1880, and moved to Illinois, where he engaged in farming. Was treasurer of Macon County four years, and now lives in Decatur. They have one son, Henry A.

Ida Margaret was born in Jackson township, Muskingum County, July 31, 1859. She attended school in Philadelphia. Was married to Dr. Albert F. Chase, of Philadelphia, October 29, 1890. They have one daughter, Helen Montgomery Chase.

John A. was born June 5, 1863, near Perryton. He graduated from the Bryant and Stratton Business College, of Philadelphia, then taught school a year near home in the Coshocton school house. In 1886, he went to Macon County, Illinois, and entered into partnership with his brother, Henry Clay. In 1888 he married Miss Addie Lewis, of Macon, Illinois. He then went into the grain business, in which he is now engaged. They have three sons, Lewis Edward, John Paul, and Thaddeus Lemert.

Thaddeus Lemert was born July 3, 1868. He attended school and business college in Philadelphia, and engaged in business in the Franklin Bank in Newark, in October 1887. He married Miss Florence Franklin, October 17, 1894, who died October 7, 1895, leaving a son, Benjamin Franklin.

Nellie Lemert was born June 14, 1874. She attended school one year in Newark and three years in Philadelphia, part of the time studying art in the Pennsylvania Museum, where she graduated June 5, 1896. She is the only one left at home.

Henry A. Montgomery wishes to say in closing that he owes much of his success in life to his early religious training at home. He joined the M. E. church nearly sixty years ago. In looking back over seventy-three years of life he says he can see mistakes, yet in the providence of the Heavenly Father he has been blessed with good health and a fair amount of success in life.

JOHN FLETCHER, youngest son of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born December 12, 1827, in Madison township, Licking County, Ohio. He married Mary E. Wickham, April 20, 1854, and began married life on the home farm, where he lived till his death. In 1862, when the State of Ohio was threatened by "Morgan's Raid," he was one of the band of "Squirrel Hunters" that responded to the call of Governor Todd for defense. In 1864 he served in Company E, 135th Regiment O. V. I., through the hundred day campaign.

In early life he united with the Bowling Green M. E. church, and was an active and faithful member all his life. In the summer of 1892 he was afflicted with some stomach trouble, from which he never recovered, and died November 12, 1892. The funeral services were conducted at the Bowling Green M. E. church and he was buried in the Montgomery lot in Cedar Hill cemetery, Newark, Ohio. There were four children—Cary Wickham, Willie D., Etta Margaret, and Bertha Sidle. Willie died in infancy.

Cary W. was born October 14, 1855. He attended school at Delaware and returned to his father's farm. December 31, 1890, he married Martha A. Montgomery and now lives on the old homestead. He has taken an active part in Granges and other farmers' societies, and was for some time captain of the State militia at Newark.

Etta M. was born March 6, 1860. She attended school at Delaware, and was married to John C. Kreig, of Newark, November 27, 1883. Their children are Lawrence Montgomery, born October 25, 1884; Mary Etta, born April 14, 1889, and Harold W., born September 3, 1891. Their home is in Newark.

Bertha Sidle was born March 25, 1868. She, too, attended school at Delaware. October 11, 1893, she married Ira Milton Phillips, and they now live in Newark. Her mother lives with them.

EMILY C., the ninth child of William and Margaret Montgomery, was born March 20, 1831. She lived at home till March 20, 1851, when she was married to Thomas B. Wickham. They went to Illinois to live and settled in Springfield. They lived in various places and at last in Chicago, where she died after a long sickness, December 7, 1864. She united with the church when young and died in the faith. Mr. Wickham died in Newark July 11, 1881.

the parental roof till marriage. Received a common school education in the country school house, which was made of round logs with the crevices chinked with wooden strips and clay. The door consisted of a few boards fastened together with a wooden latch and tow string. There were four long benches to sit on, one on each side of the room. After leaving this "academy," I spent a short time at the Granville Female Seminary, then under control of the Episcopal church. March 11, 1858, I was married to Harvey D. Evans, of Muskingum County, Ohio, by Rev. H. Lonnis, of the M. E. Church, of which we are members. The ceremony was performed at my mother's home in the presence of both families and a few invited friends.

The children of this union are as follows: Emily Jane, born December 24, 1858, and died March 22, 1864. William L. was born March 5, 1860. John T. was born April 27, 1863. Margaret B., born October 28, 1865, and was married to B. F. Kinkead, October 25, 1884. They live in Emporia, Kansas. Their children are Mabel A. and Harvey W. Mattie M. was born September 30, 1867, and has been a successful teacher in the county schools of Kansas. Frank W. was born January 12, 1870, and married Miss Edith Hutchens, March 2, 1893. They have one child, Netta Ellen. Fredie was born January 5, 1871, and died in June, 1871. Charles H. was born March 23, 1873, died January 20, 1877. The youngest, but not the least, Nellie E., was born March 27, 1877. She is a student in the K. S. N. School.

Our oldest son, William, came to Kansas in the spring of 1881, and by his encouraging letters, on January 4, 1882, my husband and I and four children (John coming the next spring) left our native State to seek a home in the "wild and wooly West," in the "Sunflower State" of Kansas, "where 'lasses flowed in rivers and pancakes grew on trees." We failed to find "'lasses and pancakes," but by pluck and untiring perseverance, we found that they could be produced from the rich soil.

Our three sons are prosperous farmers and stock dealers of Coffee County, Kansas. Perhaps I have written all that future generations will care to read, so with this short history of myself and family I bid you adieu. Respectfully submitted,

AMANDA M. EVANS.

The Somerville Family.

As stated in the fore part of this history, James Somerville married Mary Ann Linn in Ireland. They moved to America about the year 1798, and lived in Pennsylvania and Louden County, Virginia, till 1805, or 1806, when they came to Ohio and settled on the Somerville homestead, two miles north of Hanover. They were among the first settlers and were often visited by Indians, and molested by bears and other wild animals, but they toiled patiently on and made a comfortable home out of the wilderness for themselves and their children, and both lived to a ripe old age to enjoy the reward for their labor.

There were ten children—Samuel, born September 16, 1802; Mary Ann, born January 25, 1805; John, born about 1807; Margaret, born about 1809; Boyd, born about 1811; Nancy L., born October 10, 1814; Rebecca, born in July, 1817; Robert Linn, born September 18, 1818; Azor W., born October 20, 1820; William Clark, born August 28, 1822.

AZOR WESLEY SOMERVILLE was born October 20, 1820. He married Catharine Green, June 6, 1852. Died June 20, 1896, on the old homestead where he was born and lived all his life. He was deprived of sight twelve years before his death, yet he endured it patiently, and died honored and respected by all who knew him. Catharine Green, his wife, was born of German-Irish parentage in Limerick, Ireland, May 25, 1829. In the latter part of the 17th century three brothers of the Ruckel family came from Germany to England, and later to Ireland, in the reign of Queen Ann. The name of the oldest was Sebastian. Daniel Ruckel was his son, and Barbara Ruckel, who married Paul Heck, and is called the "Mother of American Methodism," was his daughter. It was at her earnest solicitation that her grand-nephew, Philip

A. W. Somerville and Wife.

Heck, preached the first Methodist sermon delivered in America. George Ruckel was a son of Daniel, and Elizabeth a daughter of George. She married George Green.
